

Angela Livingstone

Angela Livingstone was appointed Head of Vocal Studies in 2011, having previously worked as a vocal coach at the college.

She began her professional life working extensively as a collaborative pianist with singers and instrumentalists as well as orchestral work and ballet.

Her musical interests are many and varied although most involve singers and singing. Her professional experience encompasses opera, theatre, musical theatre, contemporary opera, choral work and recitals. She has broadcast frequently for radio and TV. She continues a busy coaching schedule both in college and professionally.

Angela has a longstanding interest and commitment to the development of young talent in all disciplines and is a panellist and mentor for Live Music Now, the charity bringing high quality performance by emerging artists to people across all communities.

In addition to her teaching role, she is an experienced examiner and adjudicator. She sits on the audition panel for BBC Cardiff Singer of the World.

Originally from Edinburgh, she studied at university there and at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland.

Angela is a Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy.
