

Richie Turner

Richie is the Creative Industries Incubator Manager at the University of South Wales and has many years' experience working in a variety of roles in the arts, higher education and the public sector specialising in innovation, business development and evaluation. He is currently a Board member at Creative Cardiff, an Equality and Diversity adviser for BECTU and is also researching a pan-UK arts access card scheme. He was a Council Member for Arts Council Wales for many years.